

Looking Over Kingston's New Charter Proposals

The following series of articles will present in complete form the Proposed City Charter as developed by the Charter Revision Committee.

For a number of months a charter commission composed of Aldermen John Schwab, Paul Zucca, Jacob H. Tromper, Jr., and Joseph Epstein, together with Jay Terry, president of the Kingston Taxpayers' Association, William B. Byrne, Walter E. Joyce, Corporation Counsel M. V. Cahill and Mayor C. J. Heiselmann, has been writing a plan to modernize the city government and do away with much of the alleged inefficiency that exists at present under the board system. The results of the commission efforts will be found in the following series of articles, of which this is the seventh.

Greek Students Protest Failure of Government To Execute the Rebels

Athens Resembles Strife-torn City With Armored Trucks Guarding Home of Tsaldaris and Public Buildings.

REBELS HUMILIATED

13 Officers of Rebellion Watched by Thousands of Citizens as Epaulets are Ripped Away.

Athens, April 2 (AP).—Thousands of students and others paraded the streets of Athens today, protesting against the failure of the government to sentence to death the leaders of the Venizelist rebellion.

Athens resembled a beleaguered city. Armored tanks were stationed before the home of Premier Panayotis Tsaldaris and public buildings.

Troops patrolled the streets with fixed bayonets and cavalrymen dashed about the ancient city with drawn sabers.

Hundreds of gendarmes surrounded the Parliament building outside of which John Metaxas, who resigned from the cabinet in protest against the mild policy adopted toward the rebels, led throngs of students in tumultuous demonstrations.

While spectators shouted "lynch the traitors, lynch them!" thirteen rebel officers condemned to life imprisonment by court martial were publicly degraded. Thousands of citizens fought for places in the huge courtyard of the Athens barracks to see the insurgents humiliated.

The ceremony was carefully arranged to provide a public example of "what happens to traitors." Cameramen and motion picture operators recorded the scene and the crowd howled its approval as the presiding officer, armed with an American-made razor blade, ripped epaulets and insignia from the uniforms and caps of the miserable prisoners.

Flanked by soldiers with rifles bristled with bayonets, the 13 were paraded around the immense square for exhibition to the public.

"Kill them, they're traitors! Lynch them, they're cowards!" shrieked the crowds.

Two spectators, one of whom lost a brother in the uprising, struck some of the prisoners. Only the intervention of regular army officers saved them from injury.

While the mob still clamored for their lynching, the officers at length were returned to prison shorn of all their military honors.

9 ROBBERS AND KILLERS EXECUTED BY THE SOVIET

Moscow, April 2 (AP).—Nine robbers and killers were executed by shooting today here and at Leningrad.

The condemned included two motor-men who robbed women street car conductors.

The executions were carried out swiftly after the convictions were obtained, as a part of the nation's anti-crime drive. One man executed had slain a guard who intervened while he was stealing sausages and cheese from a restaurant in the Park of Culture and Rest.

The motor-men who turned robber late at night boarded street cars operated by women and made the conductors bleed over their cash. During the fifth such raid, a conductor screamed and attracted police.

Three were executed for killing a policeman who chased them after they looted an apartment. Three of the nine executions were carried out in Leningrad after convictions on murder and robbery charges.

Catholic Pilgrimage.

New York, April 2 (AP).—Plans for what was said to be one of the largest Catholic pilgrimages ever held in the United States, were announced today by the Very Rev. T. S. McDermott, Dominican provincial of the Eastern Province, for May 5, when between 12,000 and 15,000 persons will visit Rosary Shrine, Summit, N. J. Visitors at the annual May service will be principally from eastern and New England states, the provincial said. The pilgrimage will be preceded by a Novena of Prayer and the Rev. Dr. Ignatius Smith, O. F. M., of the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., will be the speaker.

"The Best Salesman."

Washington, April 2 (AP).—President Roosevelt was described by the house interstate committee today as "the best salesman in the United States." Committee members asked R. W. Kerr, representing the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, in hearings on the utility holding company regulation bill, if there was any doubt that there was a market for electricity. "None whatever," was the reply. "Why, we have the best salesman in the United States selling electricity—our President."

Prisoned For Action

Rome, April 2 (AP).—Italy's war machine, it was disclosed today, is primed for action in the air as well as on the ground. Figures contained in the report submitted to the senate by General Giuseppe Valle, under secretary for air, showed that Tremadori had at his command 1,500 modern military planes ready to be assigned an active role in a new attack on the enemy.

Order Troopers Placed At Doors of the Assembly

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP).—Pressing a drive for final adjournment of the New York legislature, Speaker Irwin Steingut of the assembly today stationed State Troopers at the doors of the lower house to make certain that no member departs without his consent.

Anxious to preserve the record of business-like dispatch that marked the session during the earlier weeks, the Democratic legislative leaders are cracking down to keep their followers at their tasks and adjourn as soon as possible.

The session already is in its fourth month.

Speaker Steingut's order placing troopers at the doors of the assembly followed a threat in the early morning hours, near the close of a lengthy Monday night session, to summon authorities to round up vanishing legislators.

Wearied by the toll of considering long calendars of bills, the lawmakers disappeared as the session went into its sixth hour, causing a Democratic sponsored bill to go down to defeat by six votes.

Meantime, Democratic Leader John J. Dunnigan ordered a close check be kept on upper house members today as the senate took up a long calendar.

City Judge Culliton Succeeds W. R. Kraft As Democratic Leader

Democratic County Committee Held Special Meeting Monday Afternoon to Accept Mr. Kraft's Resignation and Elect His Successor—County Committee Favored Nomination of Supreme Court Justice Schirlick for Full Term in November.

City Judge Bernard A. Culliton was elected chairman of the Democratic county committee at the special meeting held in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium on Monday afternoon for the purpose of accepting the resignation of Postmaster William R. Kraft as county leader.

Due to the fact that he is now serving as postmaster. The name of Judge Culliton was placed before the meeting by Postmaster Kraft, and the judge was the unanimous choice of the committee.

The Democratic county committee went on record as favoring the nomination of Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirlick for the full term at the judicial convention to be held in August. Judge Schirlick was appointed last January to fill the unexpired term of Judge John T. Loughran, who had been elevated to the Court of Appeals. Judge Loughran's term would have expired January 1, 1936.

Mr. Kraft's Resignation

Postmaster Kraft's letter of resignation was read in which he stated that having been appointed acting postmaster of the city of Kingston and in order to qualify for the permanent position it was mandatory that he hold no office in a political organization. In closing Mr. Kraft thanked the county committee for the cooperation given him as chairman for the past eight years, and asked that the same loyal support be given his successor.

Osterhoudt Sings Praises

Supervisor Ross K. Osterhoudt of the town of Marlborough praised Mr. Kraft for his work as county chairman during the past eight years. In closing he called attention to the fact that Mr. Kraft had three times accepted nomination in hopeless battles, but he had fought bravely with his chin up and with a smile. President Roosevelt once referred to Al Smith as the "Happy Warrior" and I know of no more happy phrase to attach to our chairman as we say farewell said Mr. Osterhoudt as he moved that the resignation be accepted, which was seconded by John J. Feeney of the Fifth ward.

Culliton Named by Kraft

Mr. Kraft in nominating Judge Culliton to succeed him as county chairman said that he believed the committee knew that he had no greater interest than the success of the Democratic party. He said that in selecting Judge Culliton the committee had chosen a man of high character and high ability.

Governor Lehman Will Give Consideration To The Ashokan Boulevard

Mayor Heiselmann Had Written to Governor Asking Support of Bill Providing That Reservoir Road Be Taken Over by State.

SIGNING PETITION

The Uptown Business Men's Petition With Signatures Will Be Presented to the Governor.

This morning Mayor C. J. Heiselmann received a letter from Charles Poletti, counsel to Governor Lehman, in which it was stated that the governor had received and read the letter written by the mayor in regard to the Ashokan reservoir road, and stating that the governor wished to assure the mayor that he would give the mayor's views consideration.

Mayor Heiselmann under date of March 29, wrote the following letter to Governor Lehman: "May I call to your attention and ask your support of Assembly Intro 421, Print 489, which provides for the transfer of approximately ten miles of the Ashokan Dam Boulevard from the care and maintenance of the New York City Board of Water Supply to the State Highway Department. This piece of road is a part of Route 28 over which all the Catskill Mountain traffic must pass.

"I enclose herewith a copy of a letter from the New York State Highway Department to the New York City Board of Water Supply, dated August 27, 1934, which fully explains why people have been killed in numerous accidents because of the slippery pavement and sharp, unbanked curves. Thousands of motorists use this road during the year and it has been properly characterized as the most dangerous piece of heavily traveled road in the state. Unfortunately the City of New York is not financially able at this time to proceed with the necessary reconstruction to eliminate the traffic hazards caused by the condition of their present road.

"I understand that there is some opposition to increasing the mileage of the state highway system. However, this restriction should not apply to Ulster county for the reason that some years ago in order to permit construction, under state auspices, of the New Paltz-Ireland Corners road, 5.7 miles was taken from the county system for that road and added to the state system, and at that time the Big Indian-Claryville road of 19.8 miles was taken off the state map and put on the county map; the county system being increased thereby 14.1 miles and the state system decreased by the same mileage. It is evident therefore that the transfer of this 10 miles of Ashokan Boulevard to the state system will still leave that system four miles less in Ulster county than it was prior to the construction of the New Paltz-Ireland Corners road. I am informed by Assemblyman Conway that at the time this transfer was made the right was reserved at some future time to apply for the transfer of additional county highway mileage to compensate for the sacrifice which the county made at that time.

"Besides adding greatly to the safe transportation of many of the state's citizens and visitors, the proper reconstruction of the Ashokan Boulevard will be of immeasurable value to the business life of this city and will materially assist in the development of the summer resort business in Ulster and Greene counties.

"May I therefore respectfully urge your excellency to use your influence to insure the passage of the legislation mentioned herein."

The Governor's Reply

The reply to the above letter reads as follows: "The governor received your letter of March 29th relative to the above legislation. He appreciates your writing him and wishes to assure you that he will give your views consideration." The brief communication is signed by Charles Poletti, counsel to the governor.

Circulating Petition

The Uptown Business Men's Association is circulating a petition addressed to the state authorities asking that this Ashokan road be taken over by the state. This petition is to be presented to the governor.

Reports Denied Vigorously.

London, April 2 (AP).—A high authoritative source today indignantly denied reports published abroad (not carried by The Associated Press) to the effect that Great Britain had assured Russia it would not construct a French attack on Germany a violation of the Locarno pact in the event Germany first attacked an eastern European country. The authority said emphatically that the British government stands solidly behind the League of Nations council as the arbiter in the event of aggression anywhere in the world against any League member, including Russia.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, April 2 (AP).—The position of the treasury on March 30 was: Receipts, $120,142,234.42; expenditures, $74,449,744.54; balance, $24,445,417.22; customs receipts for the month, $22,302,129.64. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,442,740,221.74; expenditures, $1,642,422,101.21 (including $1,442,422,101.21 of emergency expenditures); balance of expenditures, $799,445,949.41. Mayor Talks on New Charter; Taxpayers Opposed to Schools

Mayor Heiselmann Gives Talk on Proposed New Charter—Proposal For Two New Junior High Schools Opposed by Members of Taxpayers' Association.

The proposed new charter for the city of Kingston practically provides for a modified form of city manager government, according to Mayor C. J. Heiselmann, who addressed a group of about 20 members of the Kingston Taxpayers Association at their monthly meeting, held at the city hall Monday evening.

"The mayor is given the power of a city manager; that is what this charter provides," said Mayor Heiselmann. "In this case," he added, "the people elect the city manager."

In opening his talk the mayor said "I believe charter revision is one of the aims of the Taxpayers' Associations." He went on to give the history of the charter revision movement, beginning with the authorization by the Common Council last October. A revision committee was appointed and had been busy ever since. As a matter of fact, the mayor said, the committee had been finishing its work that very evening, correcting a number of errors that had been discovered in the draft as first printed.

The new charter is to be submitted to the Common Council this evening. It cannot be adopted until the meeting the first Tuesday in May. If approved at that time, the mayor must call a public meeting, at which meeting the citizens will be given an opportunity to express their opinions. Following this, and in case the mayor gives his approval of the new charter, 60 days must elapse before it can be submitted to the people at a referendum.

The mayor said that there had been many wild rumors as to the cost of holding such a referendum, some placing the cost as high as $10,000. As a matter of fact, he said, the cost of holding the special election had been estimated at $1,205, which would include printed copies of the new charter for use by the voters.

Present Sections Out of Date

Continuing, the mayor said in reference to the present city charter, that it had been approved by the state legislature in 1895, when conditions in the city were much different from those which exist today and demands upon municipal government were much less. He added that many of the sections of the present charter were not only out of date, but that some of them were really funny. A number of the sections referred to were read and commented on.

The first selected was that which defined disorderly conduct and mentioned among disorderly persons, those who were idle and lived without visible means of employment. "Today," said the mayor, "we have 1,500 families, without employment, on our relief rolls." Another section was that providing for payment to the Kingston Hospital of $4,500 a year no mention being made of the decline. Today both hospitals receive money from the city and the amount is much more than $4,500 a year.

Mayor Heiselmann then took up the matter of inefficiency in the present government set-up. He said that he had always been interested in budget control and that under the system now in force conditions were better than they were, but that the charter set-up limited improvements that could be made in attempting to give a business like administration. He called attention to the fact that there were some 64 men, at least, in important official positions, including members of various boards that he called buying, bookkeeping and giving of bills. The list embraces, besides the mayor, aldermen-at-large and 13 members of the Common Council, the Board of Health, Board of Public Works, Board of Education, police commissioners, fire commissioners and others. "I am not criticizing the personnel of these boards, but the system," said the mayor, adding, "How far would you get in your own business if you had that many men in authority?"

In explanation of the present system, it was suggested that at the time the charter now in effect was granted the mayor served without salary and spent but a portion of his time at the city hall. These various boards were established and given the independent powers they have to reduce the mayor of much of his work.

In the opinion of Mayor Heiselmann the proposed charter was much more business like. Further, it put directly up to the mayor the responsibility if city officials and departments failed to function as they should. "Under the new charter," he said, "there will be no passing the buck, no hiding behind this board and that board. I believe that it will make for better government to have one man responsible, standing out in the open. That is the key to the whole proposed plan, to concentrate authority and responsibility."

Charter No Guarantee

The speaker said that he did not believe any charter could guarantee good government, but that a group could provide a better government than the present one.

Albany, N. ### Formal Action After Chairman Introduces New Bill Embodying Amendments Inserted by Committee in Original Bill.

NO AGREEMENT

Congressional Conferees on the $4,880,000,000 Relief Bill Fail To Reach an Agreement.

Washington, April 2 (AP).—The ways and means committee agreed to report to the House the administration's social security bill.

Formal action will be taken after Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) introduces a new bill embodying the many amendments inserted by the committee in the original Wagner-Lewis-Doughton bill.

The informal agreement to report the measure followed a vote on a motion by Representative Cooper (D., Tenn.) to accept as a part of the bill the sections levying taxes on payrolls and earnings for old-age annuities to workers.

His motion was supported by 17 of the 18 committee Democrats with the 7 Republicans voting present. Representative Lammieck (D., Ohio), who is ill, was absent.

Democratic leaders meanwhile planned a conference to decide whether a "gag rule" should be employed to block amendments when floor consideration of the bill begins next week.

In its final form, the bill still establishes old-age pension and annuity systems for persons over 65 and unemployment insurance, as recommended by the President's cabinet committee on economic security.

Many changes in administrative features were voted by the committee, however. One of the most important was that taking the new social insurance board, which will handle much of the new program, out of the labor department and making it an independent agency.

This change was made with the approval of President Roosevelt and over the objections of Secretary Perkins.

No Agreement on Relief

Congressional conferees on the $4,880,000,000 relief bill failed to reach an agreement today at their first meeting since recommendation to the administration-opposed direct labor amendment.

Another meeting was called for later in the day.

Senator Glass (D., Va.), head of the Senate managers, announced the five senatorial conferees had decided not to resign as a result of criticisms leveled at them yesterday by Democratic Leader Robinson.

The meeting with the House group lasted about two hours, but Glass said "we have reached no agreement."

Robinson's remark on the senate floor brought a reply from Senator Glass (D., Va.) that the majority leader had reflected on the ability of the senate conferees to carry out their duties.

The bill was returned to conference yesterday by the House after Secretary Ives, with the support of President Roosevelt, complained the labor provision would prevent the carrying out of many projects, including slum clearance, rural electrification and certain housing construction.

Conference on "Gag Rule"

Washington, April 2 (AP).—Democratic leaders today planned a conference to determine a "gag rule" should keep the House from considering amendments to the administration's social security bill when it is brought up next week. Opinion was divided. Some leaders contended that the House would vote down any attempt to force through a gag rule. Others argued that it would be unwise to open to amendments a bill that a committee had worked on for more than 10 weeks.

First Salmon of the Season.

Appeal Bail Measure Now Before the Senate

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—Criminals with long records and convicted of a serious crime would be prevented from obtaining bail, pending appeal, under terms of a bill before the New York Senate today.

Sponsored by Assemblyman George W. Stewart, Kings Democrat, the measure was approved by the lower House last night without a dissenting vote.

Meanwhile, the Assembly rules committee reported favorably on another crime bill designed to make the consorting of persons having an evil reputation with thieves and criminals, whether or not with an unlawful purpose, presumptive evidence of disorderly conduct.

The measure was amended in committee to make it effective for one year only, clearing the way for repeal if it fails to function properly.

CAPITAL NEWS

HOLLISTER STURGES, Jr.

Albany, April 1 (Special)—Capitol Hill is becoming a scene of hectic rush as the fourth month of legislative duties unfolded last night. In the Assembly Speaker Irwin Steingut threatened to call out state troopers to get the members in their seats if they continued to be absent. He has the power to do this, and his tone was dead serious. Minority Leader Irving M. Ives announced that he was in accord with the speaker on this stand, and that the many important pieces of legislation needed attention at once so that adjournment could be reached.

Last year majority floor leader of the Senate, John J. Dunnigan, used state troopers to bring three senators back to Albany from Harmon, and they were yanked off of one train and put on another, northbound, to this city.

The senators labored last night under a staggering calendar that kept them at work from 8:30 until nearly 2 a. m. Pageboys yawned, the clerk's voice grew a bit hoarse, and everyone was tired out before the break came. Dunnigan, too, promised action and demanded that the sergeant-at-arms bring in the members so that an authentic vote could be taken on major pending issues.

April Fooling

Not missing a chance to have some sport, Senator George R. Fearon introduced a witty bill, bogus of course, last night, and finally after he had delighted those present with his sense of humor, had it withdrawn. The packed galleries, perhaps sensing that some fun of this kind was in the offering, twittered lightly to the fun-making Republican leader. He proposed an amendment to the education laws regarding bath rubbers and towel folders. The lengthy message included the names of those to serve on a special commission, choice name being Ivan Sledskateorski.

Montecou O. K.'s Wicks Bill

Senator Wicks has offered a new bill on the mid-Hudson "Free Port" Authority to include Ulster county and Kingston as potentially a possibility for the establishment of a port in the mid-Hudson area. Senator Frederic H. Montecou does not mind Ulster to be included, but it is believed that citizens of Beacon will resent this move, as they have done most of the work during the past two years, and they might make Ulster county out to be a "chiseler."

More Taxes, Maybe

By a count of 24-18, not sufficient to pass, the Court House bill proposed by Senator William T. Byrne, Albany Democrat, to issue bonds for $800,000 for constructing a new court house for the third judicial district was defeated last night. A motion was made to reconsider the vote, so that it will be balloted upon again. Twenty-eight counties comprise this area, and upon each would be levied more taxes to pay for this over a period of years. Senator Wicks voted against the measure again, having done so when it was on general orders. The need for such a building is generally recognized, but many legislators do not want such a project undertaken just now when money is scarce. Wicks spoke briefly against it.

Against Printers

A local measure for Monroe county delinquent taxpayers caused quite a senatorial stir last night as it went to defeat with little support. It would eliminate the necessity of advertising in newspapers those in arrears on taxes in this county. George Fearon, Republican leader from Syracuse, refused to favor it because he held the belief that in many instances people who could pay would not do so unless the embarrassment of public knowledge of their shirking was made, and that as soon as the ads were started a good deal of tax money would roll into the local treasury. He also defended the printers who would be reduced in employment should this bill be enacted.

Reclaim 4 1/2 Million Acres

Senator Joseph T. Nunan, Jr., Democrat, has offered a resolution calling on Congress to purchase four and a half million acres of sub-marginal land for purposes of reforestation. The Conservation Department would be allowed to set up divisions for shooting and fishing for gamblers.

To The "Bambino"

Assembly J. S. Stephens, negro representative from New York, has put in a resolution to the king of swatters. He believes that the state legislature should take recognition of the contributions to the world of sport that have been made by Babe Ruth during the past 15 years he has played with the New York Yankees, and that an engrossed copy of his resolution stating the splendid work of this great athlete be sent him. It has been filed with the committee of printing and engrossing, of which Stephens is chairman, although technically the resolution is in rules committee.

Through on Wednesday

Anxious to break away from the capitol, knowing that adjournment cannot be realized this week, Irving Ives, while the calendar was being hashed out, suggested that bills of a controversial nature be put over until next week rather than on Thursday, as the boys wanted some rest. His suggestion was heartily welcomed by all.

The Christian Sunday

In the Senate Pinney J. Williamson, of Westchester county, hit a dual bill by Julius S. Berg, that would permit working on Sundays to those who do not regard this day as their religious one. He declared that it would secularize the Christian Sunday. On the first roll call the bill met defeat, but with reinforcements from late arrivals it had a second vote and squeezed through. Mr. Berg read a long list of concerns and organizations that stood in back of the bill.

Mystery Gun Is Key Item in Rushing Naval Program at Factory

Washington, April 2 (AP)—A new mystery gun is called the key item in a program of armaments production which is keeping the naval factory here operating full speed, night and day.

Two hundred and fifty of the guns are being manufactured. A rapid-fire weapon of five-inch bore, it is called the "most effective of its kind."

Spokesmen for the naval high command said today that the pattern of the new cannon, which is "about 15 feet long, has been developed secretly and that complete details of its mechanism are being withheld because of the immense importance attached to it.

Production of this weapon, built for destroyer use, together with other manufacturing activities at the gun factory has resulted in an expansion of yard effort to the full capacity of 8,400 gun makers. Three thousand were employed two years ago. The weekly pay roll now is estimated at $1,250,000.

To keep pace with the ship construction program the factory operates 24 hours a day from midnight Sunday until midnight Friday of each week.

"Why don't you have some of the work done by private contractors?" Capt. W. L. Freidell, the superintendent, was asked in an interview.

"Because none of the private contractors can do it," he replied. "Some of them would like to supply parts and small equipment but they can't do the full job."

Consequently, he said, the factory will have to continue operations on the full blast basis until January 1, 1937, even if there is no further authorization by Congress for the construction of new warships.

Except for a small amount of work at the army's arsenal, all of the navy's gun building is done at the factory here. Small arms are purchased from private manufacturers.

The new five-inch gun, pride of the sea fighters, is described as about five feet longer than the weapon previously in favor. It has a range of about 20,000 yards, due in part of its extended length.

Besides pushing production of the five inchers, Capt. Freidell disclosed that work of building nine-inch guns for the heavy cruiser Vincennes, due for completion January 1, 1937, is underway. Later nine more guns of this type will be made for another new heavy cruiser, the Wichita.

Reapportionment Bill Called Tammany Grab

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—The Democratic reapportionment bill is regarded by some upstate Republican leaders as a "Tammany grab" although Tammany votes defeated it on its first test in the legislature, a survey of the sentiment of upstate leaders of both parties showed today.

The survey also showed that sentiment against the bill is strongest in districts where it adversely affects either party. All but a few Democratic chieftains expressed approval of the bill.

Some leaders said they were taking no position. Others admitted frankly that they had not read the bill and did not know what its provisions were.

James J. Dooling, of New York, head of Tammany Hall, said his position on the bill was "unchanged." Dooling has previously expressed confidence the bill would not be passed by the assembly. It deprives Tammany Hall and New York county of seven assembly and three senate seats.

Chase Mellen, Jr., youthful leader of the New York county Republican committee, objected to the "unconstitutionality" of the population figures used, but said reapportionment was "due and overdue."

On the basis of population, great districts in the counties of Kings, Queens, Bronx, Nassau and Suffolk are under-represented, while Manhattan is decidedly over-represented," Mellen said.

The bill proposes to distribute the 10 "lost" Tammany seats to New York's neighboring counties.

An unusual situation exists in Rensselaer county where both parties are aligned against the bill because it would deprive the county of a separate senate seat, and throw Saratoga and Rensselaer counties into the same district. Rensselaer frequently changes political complexion.

Dr. Arthur J. Leonard, Saratoga county's Democratic leader, said his organization was "taking no definite stand," and John B. Smith, member of the county GOP committee explained, "we are not damming the bill."

Stephen W. Brennan, chairman of the Oneida county Democratic committee, said that he was "willing to leave the details to Governor Lehman and others who have made a detailed study of the proposition."

Henry A. Hudson, chairman of the Jefferson county Republican committee, said he regarded the plan as "the usual one advanced by Tammany to get a stronger hold on the legislature." Both he and James J. Butler, chairman of the county Democratic committee, pointed out that the bill does not affect Jefferson county materially.

Butler said he was "heartily in favor" of its passage.

Tips on CONTRACT

Straight Flush Loos

Waiting for Hal Sims and Ely Culbertson to get busy on their match at Crockford's some of the boys writing about them started a game of their own. In the course of it I held five trumps in sequence, ten-spot high, again a bid of five spades. I refrained from doubling, hoping the enemy would get to slam. But the little slam could have been made. Here was the hand:

♦ K 3
♣ A Q J 7 4
WEST
♠ NONE
♥ K Q 8 4
♦ J 6 4 2
♣ K 10 9 6 3
EAST
♠ 10 9 8 7 6
♥ J 10 3
♦ 9 7 5
SOUTH
♠ A K 5 3
♥ A 9 7 6 2
♦ A 10 8

Robert Warburg, the dealer, offered a heart. After West's pass, Robert Neville, North, bid two clubs. I passed with the wonderful assortment East, fearing the worst. Warburg bid two spades and Neville said five of the same. Warburg fooled me by passing.

Ward led the king of hearts and after taking it with the ace, North led the king of spades. West showing out and revealing the bunching of adverse trumps east. South just made five.

"You could have made six," said Professor Neville. And he proved it.

It is one of those cases where adverse trumps must never be drawn any of them, or a slam bid would be set. The trump honors must all be used for ruffing. East having to underruff after other suits have been eliminated from his hand. He will make a trump at the end. He must never be allowed to discard. The dealer at a slam bid would be fortunate in finding East with three hearts and three diamonds, but would have to assume such a holding in order to make the hand.

There must be a bit of care in timing. After taking the opening heart lead with the ace, South, trump a low heart North with a low spade. Lead the ace of clubs and trump a low club South with a low trump. Trump another heart North with a low trump. Ruff another club South low. Now take three high diamonds.

At this point East will have nothing in his hand but five spades. North will have the green-jack of spades and three clubs. South will have the ace-king and a low spade and two hearts. Lead a club from the North hand. East will have to trump and South will take the trick

Another Attack on The County Bills

Albany, April 2 (Special)—This following extract is from the Albany Weekly Newsletter sent out by the Republican State Committee entitled, "County Ripper Bills Advanced." Excerpt: "Republican senators and assemblymen from Putnam and Ulster counties are making a vigorous fight against the passage of the Democratic-sponsored bills abolishing the office of highway superintendent in both counties and providing for the appointment of county engineers by members of the Democratic-controlled Board of Supervisors. Both bills are awaiting final passage.

"Senators Frederic H. Bontecou and Arthur H. Wicks are leading the G. O. P. fight against the measures in the Senate and Assemblymen Mallory D. Stephens and Edward J. Conway are opposing the bills in the Lower House. Senator Bontecou has been particularly vitriolic in terming the proposals 'the cheapest sort of petty politics'. He has pointed out the incumbent highway superintendents are Civil Service employees and adds, 'The Democrats are making the legislature the instrument to legislate these qualified public officials out of office and to replace them with political appointees'."

SHOKAN

Shokan, April 1.—M. K. Perkins of South Otsego, who has been coming to Shokan for the last 30 years, was a caller here and spent Friday night in the village center.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will meet Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Homer Markle.

The streams of the north reservoir section are low for this time of the year. A good rain between now and Saturday will make for better trout fishing at the opening of the season. The water however is warmer than usual on account of the absence of snow in the mountains, a condition favorable to successful fishing.

Miss Margaret Windrum is expected home Tuesday from New York city, where she has been spending several days.

Sidney K. Clapp and William Goldberg, New York city water supply engineers of many years' local experience, were callers here Friday.

Miss Carrie Brooks of Ashokan was hostess to the members of the bridge club of the twin villages Friday afternoon. Refreshments of chocolate pie, coffee and tea were served by Miss Brooks.

Two brush fires at Ashokan caused considerable excitement in the lower village Friday. One fire, near the village center, soon was put out; the other, after burning over three acres in the Winchell farm pastures, was extinguished by Eitingue Gray, Alva Buley and Paul James.

The Rev. August Praus, at the Sunday morning preaching services in the Reformed Church, took his text from Romans 1:5.

Elmer J. Struble of Hurley, who died suddenly on March 27, formerly was a frequent visitor to this section. Mr. Struble several years ago maintained a camp on the mountain slope back of Shokan.

Raymond Crutcher and family of Ridgefield Park, N. J., spent the week-end here. The visitors, who have a summer home here, were guests at the home of Mrs. Margaret Rainey, who is their friend of many years' standing.

Dr. Leonard Hyams, house surgeon at the Woman's Hospital in New York city, called on friends here Friday, while en route to the city from Syracuse University, his college and medical school alma mater. The doctor, with his sister, Miss Emmie Hyams, of Brooklyn, has been a summer visitor in former years, stopping while here at the Winchell farm.

The Good School Citizen Club, of which Anna Leyder is the president, will hold its first April meeting in the Shokan schoolhouse following the close of classes Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Philip Chopay and son, George, returned to their home in Springfield, L. I., Sunday after spending two weeks with Mrs. Chopay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gies, of the old state road.

April 3, 1930, funeral services were held at Boiceville for Mrs. Millard Davis. Mrs. Davis, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Weldner, was the mother of Millard and Benjamin Davis of Kerhonkson.

Recent callers at Cool Breeze House, home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Dewitt, included the following Stone Ridge residents: Mr. and Mrs. Abram Wilber, together with their children, Edna, Frances and Samuel; and Mrs. Frank Boice and daughter, Mrs. Edna Koltz.

Mrs. Edwin Swenson left Shokan Sunday for her home in Locust Valley, L. I., after spending several months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Markle.

Mr. and Mrs. George VonderOsten are expected home Tuesday from New York city, where they have been visiting relatives.

There was a fair run of maple sap here Sunday despite numerous indications that the syrup-making season is about ended in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matland are comfortably established in the recently purchased home on the middle boulevard. Mrs. Matland has a sister, Mrs. Leidenman, residing at Olive Bridge.

Mrs. J. J. Cosgrove and two sons of Brodhead were callers in the village center Sunday. Sylvester Wells of the east end has discontinued his stove-wood business and is disposing of his S. H. P. gaso line engine.

Harold Elliott and family are removing from the Secor house adjoining the Baptist church grounds to the residence in West Hurley of James Hughes, who is Mrs. Elliott's father. Mr. Elliott is a member of the operating force at the gate house of the reservoir.

Callers here the latter part of the week included H. Winklemann and Elmer Van Name of Kingston and A. M. Adler of New York city.

Miss Annette Robeson is numbered among the rapidly increasing group of young stamp collectors in the hub of the reservoir country.

Mrs. Elizabeth Munson Shaw of Lake Katrine, who died in Kingston Friday, was a former resident of Shokan. Mrs. Shaw had a number of friends here who were greatly saddened by the news of her death. She was one of the program speakers at the county Sunday school convention here last fall.

Elder Arnold Bellows of Roxbury conducted preaching services in the Olive-Hurley Baptist Church Sunday morning and afternoon.

Charles Williams is again enjoining at the Burris Wheat residence in the west end of the village.

An extensive job of plumbing work is being done by A. J. Harder of Kingston at the Otsego Farm summer home on the mountain road. Among the improvements in the Fortson house is an oil-burning heating system. North Brothers, local contractors, have about completed their work on this job after working most of the winter on the mountain.

Attractive Morning Frocks for Large Matrons

Always in fashion, but with a few new tricks, this type of dress returns each year as comfortable, wearable, practical and easy to make as always.

The white accent is important—almost a necessity, in fact, for Summer. Here it is used with an extra special flourish in the dashing collar, and the coronet cuffs.

Like most of the other house-dresses recommended by us, this one has the common-sense advantages of set-in sleeves, darts over the bust-line, a well cut back, and a panel front with plenty of reserve fullness at the hemline. The collar is becomingly cut, narrow at the back, and shapely in front. The neck is made low and the sleeves short in anticipation of Summer.

Many different wash materials suggest themselves for this design, but none do we recommend more highly than a pretty percale. The most pleasing designs, this season are the tie motifs in neat arrangements of shapes and styles.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1626-B is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 36 inch material; 5½ yard of 36 inch contrast.

Tomorrow, Summer frock with ruffled details.

The woman who is fortunate enough to take time out for relaxation, lounging or reading in the sanctity of her boudoir can find many with eggshell trimming. The pajama coat is piped with eggshell and vases seem to be the garment favored by most women, probably for the freedom they afford.

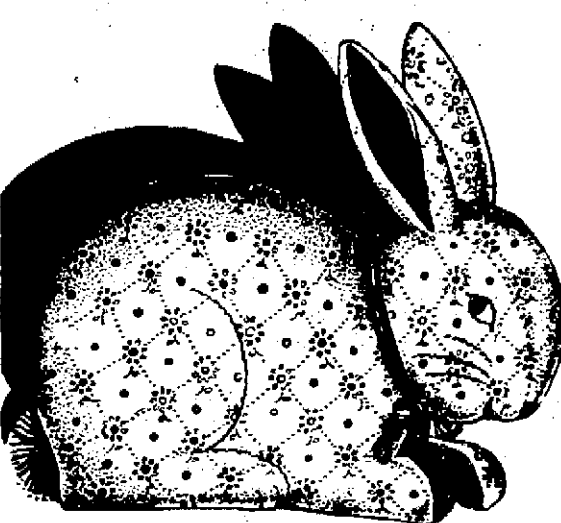

Some of these pajamas come with matching robes making a complete ensemble—suitable for playing hostess to an impromptu afternoon tea. For those who do not favor pajamas—there are very striking negligees or hostess gowns, both of the tailored variety and the more glamorous type.

The pajama ensemble pictured above consists of a two-piece pajama and long robe of leaf green satin with eggshell trimming. The pajama coat is piped with eggshell and vases seem to be the garment favored by most women, probably for the freedom they afford.

The matching robe has long shaped sleeves, a self padded waist and neck trim finished with long silky eggshell tassels, also one patch or hostess gown, both of the tailored variety and the more glamorous type.

ONLY THE NEW AUTOBUILT NORGE Washer

(MODELS 11 AND 11-F)

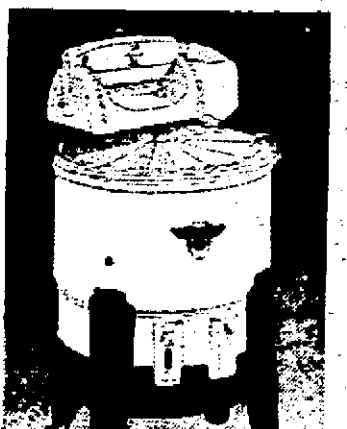

can give you all of these IMPORTANT ADVANTAGES:

1 Powerful Washing Action, which can thoroughly cleanse 6 lbs. of dirty shirts, without hand rubbing, in about six minutes; and yet is safe for daintiest lingerie. This unique washing action eliminates "tangling" of clothes, and can do justice to as much as 9 lbs. of clothes at one batch—in 15 minutes.

2 Safety Wringer, which combines the last word in safety to operator with utmost water extraction and protection of buttons.

3 More years of satisfactory service due to unique combination of 5 handy adjustments which can offset the normal wear that causes ordinary washers to develop knocks and noises in a very few years.

4 Multiple Contact Clutch, such as is used in automobile transmissions, further increases years of quiet service by distributing shock of starting load over many times as much gear surface as the ordinary washers. This is one of the contributions which Norge's great automotive background has contributed toward the "modernizing" of the washing machine.

BY A BETTER QUALIFIED MAKER

NORGE washers are built by the Norge plants of Borg-Warner Corporation, world's largest maker of auto grinding and transmission. Naturally this successful maker of grinding combinations can build a longer life washer because the life of the washer is in the grinding and transmission.

DOCTOR SAID SHE NEEDED "BULK" FOR HER CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief to Mrs. Manely

Read the following unsolicited letter:

"Up to five years ago, I knew no end of suffering caused by constipation. I used all kinds of laxatives but only found relief till I got used to them. My physician told me to get some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and instructed me how to use it."

"I did just as I was told by my doctor, and today I send my highest praise for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me."—Mrs. Jas. Manely, Jr., 9 Kilburn St., Valley Falls, N. Y.

"Due to insufficient 'bulk' in meals."

ALL-BRAN provides gentle "bulk" to help overcome common constipation. It is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" of ALL-BRAN is often more effective than the "bulk" in fruits and vegetables, as it does not break down within the body. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. If not corrected this way, see your doctor.

Isn't this food much pleasanter and safer than risking patent medicines? Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Events Around The Empire State

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., April 2 (P).—With 75 of their number already out on strike, relief workers here today endeavored to enlist additional forces at work on other projects to join their ranks.

Seeking restoration of a recent wage reduction, an increase in the number of working hours or a boost in home relief to bring their income to $60 a month minimum, workers went on strike here yesterday. Work relief wages were slashed from 50 to 40 cents an hour last week. The men work three eight-hour days a week.

Catskill, N. Y., April 2 (P).—Funeral arrangements were made today for Samuel C. Hopkins, prominent in business in this village for many years, who died yesterday. Hopkins' death followed a long illness. He was a graduate of Yale University. He will be buried here tomorrow.

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (P).—A resolution introduced in the New York legislature expressing "deep regret" at the New York Yankees' loss of the belting Babe Ruth, pride and joy of baseball fans all over the country, today was in the hands of a committee.

The measure, introduced by Assemblyman James E. Stephens, Harlem Democrat, was sent to the committee without adoption last night. The action congratulated the home-run king of the major leagues on his new position of vice president and assistant playing manager of the Boston Braves.

LUCKY PIECES PLAY BIG ROLE IN EXAMS

Students Have Many Ways of Preparing for Quizzes.

Philadelphia.—At examination time a student's fancy turns to thoughts of study—and superstitions.

University of Pennsylvania students revealed a myriad assortment of lucky pieces upon entering class-room for examinations. Favorite sweaters, special pencils, peach-stone rings, lucky dollar bills and lucky neckties are only a few of the charms carried by the superstitious.

There are some who have unbounded faith in the practice of drinking a large glass of apricot juice before entering class.

Late arriving students are overlooked during exam week because they contend a chair is waiting for the examination to begin straightens out the "cramping." Ordinarily professors require students to be on time.

A piano in the engineering building was constantly in use during exam week by the students to relieve the tension before starting a three-hour test.

Many methods of relieving the strain have been noticed. Women students make dresses or hats the night before, while basketball, theaters and movies are the diversions of the men.

Students are at odds as to the best methods of studying. Some can study only in groups, while others wish solitude. Several students rented vacant dormitory rooms in order to be alone.

There are others who go into the cellars and study.

School officials were confronted with an almost universal request to allow smoking in the examination rooms. The authorities do not permit this, but many professors were liberal about it.

Creates New Instrument to Produce Rustic Music

Clear Lake, Wis.—A three-lined pitchfork, a milk can and a piece of wire combined with chance recently in the hands of George Himes to create a new instrument for producing rustic melody.

Himes, while mending farm machinery, tightened a piece of wire over a milk can with a three-lined pitchfork. He happened to touch the wire and was pleased with the musical sound it made.

Experiments resulted in the following arrangement, on which he has applied for a patent: One end of a wire is attached to the fork handle, the other end to the middle tine. The fork handle is inserted in a slot in the bottom of the can to keep it from sliding. Himes then fastens one line in a loop attached to his chest. He draws a violin bow across the wire with one hand while sliding a cigar box up and down it with the other to vary the tone.

Coach Wants Musicians for Football Passers

Madison, Wis.—When a coach asks a prospective center if he is a musician, the coach is not as crazy as the candidate might suspect. Dr. Clarence W. Spears, head football coach at the University of Wisconsin, revealed here.

A knowledge of music is a valuable asset to a good center, Spears explained. In addition to his hands and ability to pass accurately, a sense of rhythm and timing is one of the most essential qualifications of a center, the coach said.

The center position is the most important on the team, Spears said, because his pass initiates every play and a bad pass makes the play at least 33 1/2 per cent inefficient.

Two Invalids Swamped by Offers of Advice

Muncie, Ind.—Letters from all over the nation flooded the sickroom here of Charles and William Wagner, victims of a disease which is slowly causing petrification of the muscles.

Some of the letters express sympathy. Others extend self-appointed advice on how to cure the disease, which doctors have called incurable.

A message from Texas tells how "a pretty girl was saved from turning to stone" by a diet. An Illinois woman who was "similarly afflicted 30 years ago" says she was cured by herbs.

A New York man writes, "I have it my power to completely cure this dread disease but lack the carfare to come to Muncie." A New York astrologer believes that he could help. Letters from faith healers are numerous.

Meanwhile, the brothers sit in their wheel chairs, deeply interested in jigsaw puzzles.

Worry Over Automobile Accident Kills Driver

Cleveland, Ohio.—Worry over injuring a woman with his automobile first put Steve Gatson, twenty-three, in the hospital with her, then caused his death.

This was revealed as Police Judge Julius Korachy wrote "abated by death" on the careless driving case against Gatson.

Gatson's automobile struck Mrs. Elizabeth Mayer, fifty-five, last September. He took her to Deaconess hospital, arranged to pay her bills. His case was continued in court several times, awaiting Mrs. Mayer's release from the hospital to testify.

Meanwhile, worry over the accident sent Gatson himself to the hospital several weeks ago. Recently he was released, but a few days later he collapsed and died at his home.

Examination Asked

Paris, April 2 (AP).—Public Prosecutor Hamel today asked the examination of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon Smith, Americans, from Tennessee as spies in a reconnaissance having disclosed the workings of the spy ring with which they are alleged to have been connected.

HI-DE-HO! OPERA STARS SING JAZZ!

No April fooling, here are three of opera's greatest singers caught by the cameraman as they harmonized on that lowdown Harlem number, "Minnie the Moocher." They were in dress rehearsal for a farewell "surprise" party for Giulio Gatti-Casazza, retiring manager of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York. Maybe Huey Long intends to show us a new stream-line political machine if he goes into action next year.

Challenge to Home Conference Theme

Ithaca, N. Y., April 2.—"Today's challenge to the home" is the general theme of the state federation of women's clubs to be held at Cornell, April 4 and 5. Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of the University, and Dr. Flora Rose, director of the New York state college of home economics, have a part in the conferences.

Dr. Farrand given the keynote talk at the opening session, devoted to physical fitness. Miss Rose speaks at an evening dinner on the first day of the conference.

The two-day conference is divided into morning and afternoon sessions, with emphasis at each session on some special subject. The morning session of the first day is given over to the promotion of physical fitness. In the afternoon, better management is listed as the theme, and management of time, money, and home is included.

On April 5, the second day of the conference, the morning theme concerns a return to gracious living, which includes the creation of a home, civic responsibilities, and the power of appearance. In the afternoon, the field of family relations is to be the subject.

The group meets in Martha Van Rensselaer Hall, headquarters of the New York state college of home economics.

Governor Kills Bill For Veterans' Relief

Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP).—A proposal to permit veterans to administer their own relief funds is dead today, killed by Governor Herbert J. Lehman on the grounds it would increase the taxpayers' burden and result in duplication of control.

The chief executive last night vetoed the Feld-Ostertag bill which would have transferred the administration of veterans' relief funds from county social welfare boards to county veterans relief bureaus.

Passed by both houses of the legislature by substantial margins, the measure was vigorously attacked at a public hearing last week by social welfare agencies and some veterans' organizations.

"The determination of sound government," the governor said, "must always be to simplify administration and eliminate or reduce unnecessary and costly overlapping functions."

"This bill would be a step in just the opposite direction, it would complicate, not simplify it. It would increase costs, not reduce them."

The governor said federal, state and local expenditures from relief in the state now total approximately $350,000,000 a year, an amount greater than the entire state budget. He said existing law gives veterans preference in relief and the Feld-Ostertag proposal would "greatly extend these preferences and would convert purely permissive authority into mandatory legislation."

Parent-Teacher Associations

District P. T. A. Executive. Plans for the annual spring conference of the Central Hudson District of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers were made on Saturday at an executive meeting of the district officers and chairmen and the county directors held at the home of the district director, Mrs. Edwin S. There will be round table conferences upon Progress Making and Publicity, conducted respectively by Mrs. Harry S. Simmons of Newburgh, district program chairman, and Mrs. W. R. Anderson of Kingston, district publicity chairman. It is also planned to have round table conferences of the P. T. A. presidents conducted by the five county directors.

The article gives in condensed form the findings of some of our most noted physicians, scientists and psychologists about the effect of alcohol upon the health of mankind. These findings the State Congress feels should be brought to the attention of our youth.

SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING ARE OVER

Elmira Lady Gained New Health and Strength Since Taking NU-ERB.

"I believe that no other medicine could have given me the results that I have obtained from Dr. French's NU-ERB," said Mrs. James Conklin, 919 Miller street, Elmira, N. Y. "For six years I suffered agonies from stomach, kidney and liver trouble. My back ached all the time. I'd get dizzy spells, frequent headaches and I was a chronic victim of constipation."

"NU-ERB has given me the first and only results that I have had. The gassy pains and indigestion have all been relieved. My kidneys are stronger, the pains have left my back and NU-ERB has also stopped those dreaded headaches, dizzy spells and now I feel as though I have more strength than I have had for several years."

A SUCCESSFUL advertiser, like a successful lawyer must know, for the people who read the ads are the jury that sits in judgment upon every advertising effort. Not to know what type of people they are, what influences their opinions, what they think about, is to run the risk of failing to impress them. ## HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS &amp; SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

WALTER WINGER

HOLLYWOOD—The movie-theater industry is getting down to fine points and estimates of the industry.

Producer Walter Winger, who has made pictures in the east, thinks it might be a good thing for the movies if they did move, not alone because production and distribution centers would thus be united, but also because, he says, "millions of dollars' worth of temperamental wood automatically vanish."

Hollywood is a pleasant place to live, Winger concedes, and nobody is particularly anxious to move away, but in the event the industry should pack its bags and travel to New York or New Jersey that saving in "temperament," he says, would be something to be considered.

"Our pictures made there," he recalls, "the stars quit work at 6 o'clock, went over the bridge and immediately were lost in a city of six million people. They could see new things new people, and be constantly stimulated."

'Hollywooditis'

"Here in Hollywood they gather after working hours, fast strolling around and talking about pictures, and doing the same old things day after day. Living in a colony of picture people, they naturally see little enough of any other life. They become unreasonably concerned over little items in the trade papers, and exaggerate the importance of celebrities."

"Out here," he illustrates, "even such a simple thing as entering a restaurant—one of the four or five restaurants patronized by picture people—is calculated to make the film personality conscious of its importance. In a city like New York such over-important individualism would immediately be expelled. There would be no one where anyone else went, or what anyone else did."

Talent Concentrated

Eddie Gribbon, the Marx brothers, Herbert Marshall, the late Jeanette MacDonald, Constance Collier, Walter Huston, Gayer Rogers, Jimmy Durante, and many others made their first talking in the east.

"In New York there would be no problems with stars, writers, and directors," he says. "We would not have to give writers long-term contracts, for instance, if they could do their work there, right where the publishers be. And the actors and directors would be at the heart of the theater."

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "The Whole Town's Talking." Edward G. Robinson is seen to best advantage during the course of this film, for he plays a dual role, and his characterizations are so aptly done that some of Mr. Robinson's more recent pictures are forgotten because of the dexterity and brilliance of his latest triumph. In one character, Mr. Robinson is a timid and terrified clerk, in another he is a tough, swaggering mobster wanted by the police, and when one man is mistaken for the other, great excitement prevails. The show is one of the star's best dramatic efforts, and it moves briskly through a chain of exciting and enjoyable situations, with an able cast that offers Jean Arthur, Wallace Ford, Arthur Hohl and Arthur Byron. John Ford directed and did a fine job.

Orpheum: "School for Girls." In an effort to mix reform and entertainment into a talking picture of interest to the theatre-goer, a story laid in the barren halls of a girl's reformatory is brought to the screen with Sidney Fox, Ann Shirley and Paul Kelly in the important assignments. The play tries to depict life in the raw, so to speak, and the heartache, the suffering and the character of the girls who make their home behind prison walls is industriously brought to the screen. Episode number 4 of the serial "Phantom Empire" is a special attraction for the children on Sunday. Selected short subjects complete the Orpheum program.

Kingsboro: "Gold Diggers of 1935." With Dick Powell singing new love songs to Gloria Stuart, with Glenda Farrell, Hugh Herbert, Alice Brady, Joe Cavorthorne and Adolphe Menjou all furnishing comedy moments that add to the general atmosphere of extravagance, with dance scenes so elaborate only the brain of Busby Berkeley could conceive them, and with a picked chorus of dancing Hollywood, "Gold Diggers" goes through their grandiose and spectacular backdrops that change like magic, the latest musical comedy from the Warner Brothers lot comes to the Kingston screen with ideas more glowing than the former musicals which have gone before, and a plot as unimportant as one could expect under the circumstances. The show attempts to prove that both men and women of this day and age are gold diggers, as everyone is looking for his or her chance to make some easy money without the necessity of working for it. The show is pure spectacle, and a large cast all working hard to make the play a success. Several new songs are to be found in this talkie, one especially, called "Lullaby of Broadway," is beautifully filmed with old and novel camera effects.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Living on Velvet." The popular pastime of the eternal triangle comes into familiar play again during the run of this film, a modern, sophisticated study of a woman who loves two men, which causes emotional conflict of varied scope as the show progresses to a logical solution. Kay Francis, the star, is given the opportunity of putting on a svelte show with at least fifteen new gowns designed especially for her, and the whole picture is smart, well directed, with splashes of really enjoyable dialogue. George Brent and Warren William are in the supporting group of players.

Orpheum: "Sorrell and Son" and "Inside Information." Father and son love were never better shown than in the first picture, adapted from the world famous novel of Warwick Deeping. It tells of a father who sacrifices everything for his son, and of a son who returns that trust as he grows into a man and a great physician. H. B. Warner is featured. "Inside Information" is the second offering, a melodramatic affair with Tarzan, the police dog, in the starring role.

Kingsboro: "Red Morning" and "Car 99." A Portuguese sea captain and his daughter get trapped in the South Seas among wild and vicious natives when the crew of their boat forces them ashore through treachery. Filled with tense situations, excitement, danger and melodrama, this talkie is good fun for those who want constant action in their movies. There are some excellent south sea island scenes of matchless beauty. Directed by Wallace Ford, the cast offers Stef Duna, Regis Toomey, George Lewis, Raymond Hutton and Mitchell Lewis. "Car 99" tells the vivid and supposedly authentic story of the battle between the crack Michigan State Police and a band of bank robbers. Realistic, stirring, breath taking, the show is a tribute to the forces of law and order as it details the scientific advancement the troopers have to work with as they track down the gang with relentless skill. The cast includes Ann Sheridan, Sir Guy Standing, Frank Craven and Fred MacMurray.

Greenkill Park Assets to Be Sold

New York, April 1 (Special)—The real estate, personal property and other assets of Greenkill Park, Inc., will be sold soon at public sale, according to authorizing granted today by Judge Henry W. Goddard in United States District Court to the Irving Trust Company as receiver. This ruling follows a hearing held last week on a show cause order. In a separate order the court allows the Kingston Trust Company to join the Irving Trust Company as receiver. The Kingston bank, which holds a first lien against the property in the amount of $25,000, is granted permission to press its foreclosure action in the New York State Supreme Court. Any settlement obtained by the bank must be approved by Judge Goddard, according to the order.

It is specified in the authorization to sell that the property bring not less than 75 per cent of the appraised value as of August 17 last, when the entire buildings were valued at $44,000.

New Men Expected At Boiceville Camp

Shokan, April 1.—New enrollments at Camp No. 2, CCC, are expected during the period April 1-April 15. No word has been received as to what part of the state this latest quota of recruits will be drawn from, though it is believed that Ulster county will supply a large number of the enrollees. The policy for the past year has been to make up the personnel of the 215th Company largely from young men residing in this country, with the result that there are few, if any, local towns and villages which have not been represented in the camp at Boiceville.

A number of the woodsmen still are engaged in carrying out a program of improvement in the Woodland Valley, other crews continuing their work on telephone line construction in the extreme northern part of the county. One of these crews is composed of twenty-three men. Only three crews are now engaged in spray moth control activities. It is expected that tree planting on a large scale will begin immediately upon the arrival of the seedlings and transplants from Albany.

Official visitors at Boiceville recently included the following: S. Phillips, field superintendent of spray moth work, and his son, Howard Phillips, Major Officer; H. S. Strain, field superintendent of the blister rust division of CCC activities; Nor Gunderson of Saugerties, who last year was in charge of the field lunches at the camp, is numbered among the old boys who have employment in the outside world. Mr. Gunderson has just recuperated from an appendicitis operation. Herbert Van Vlietland has left camp to accept employment in Saugerties.

The next issue of the Camp Wrensch News is scheduled to make its appearance on or about April 7. Among the features in this snappy, four-page newspaper will be a "true experience story" written by one of the enrollees who has been in 40 of the 45 states of the Union. The boys recently attended a double feature moving picture show at Read's Kingston Theatre as the guests of Nicholas Schormerhorn, manager of the theatre. The entire personnel of Co. 215 is grateful to the management for this cinema treat, one of a number which have been proffered and accepted within the past few months. Coffee and cake were served to the men upon their return from the movies in the camp trucks.

Another entertainment feature, Thursday night, was a presentation

Abraham Streifer Opens Law Office Here

Abraham Streifer, of 40 Abrayn street, is opening an office today for the practice of law. His office is located in the Kingston Trust Company building at 418 Broadway.

Mr. Streifer has long been a resident of Kingston. He was educated in the Kingston schools, having graduated from School No. 4 in 1924 and from Kingston High School in 1927. At the high school he was a member of the debating team and graduated with honors. He was a speaker at the commencement day exercises of his class.

Mr. Streifer then took a collegiate course at Syracuse University, from which he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, in 1931. At Syracuse he was elected membership of Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternities, and was also prominent in debating and tennis activities.

His legal education was obtained at the Columbia Law School, from which Mr. Streifer graduated last June. There he was active in student activities, as well as achieving the highest scholastic records. He was a member of the moot court committee, and had charge of student practice court competition. He was a recipient of tuition scholarships during each of the three years that he attended law school and was chosen Kent scholar, an honor accorded to the five men in each class who achieve the highest scholastic record. He was a research assistant to Professor MacNeil during his third year and was also legal assistant to the Moreland Investigation Commission appointed by Governor Lehman to investigate the activities of the mortgage guaranty companies.

Mr. Streifer was admitted to the practice of law in September, 1934. Since then he has been on the research staff of the Columbia Law School. He assisted Professor Roswell MacNeil, until recently assistant to the secretary of the treasury, in the writing of treatise on the concept of income. His work in this connection consisted of research in the law of income taxation, corporations, and trusts.

By Mr. Sickles of Saugerties and his players, whose performance at Camp No. 2 was arranged by the Rev. Mr. Coffey of Rhinecliff. The players were well received by the audience of woodsmen, many of the numbers receiving three and four curtain calls.

Agreement Reported On Insurance Bill

Albany, N. Y., April 1.—(Special)—The way settlement of the bill for the two major insurances, life and fire, the New York Insurance Company, Herbert H. Lehman and Governor Demarest, today, were reported in agreement on the essential provisions for a state-wide system of employment insurance.

After differences which were laid before the bill in the Senate for nearly two weeks, the agreement and revolving members of the own party were said to have been reached on an agreement to move the bill effective next March 1, and of January 1, as of January 1, 1935.

Nearly a dozen Senate bills were opposed the bill in the Senate, which was approved by the Assembly two weeks ago, notwithstanding that the last version should be determined after Congress adjourns and the new plan.

The governor's financial support of such an amendment, however, with the result that some of the essential parts shall be agreed on, and the bill will require its return to the Lower House for consideration. This is expected without difficulty.

The reported compromise came after conferences which continued throughout yesterday and last night, brightening prospects for adjournment of the legislature on April 12.

After the job insurance program is jammed through, the governor will concentrate his efforts on whipping into line the Assembly Democrats on the bill reorganizing the Assembly and Senate seats.

He—Is that so? I'm from Missouri.
She—Sir!

The wedding is a ceremony that takes place right after he stops calling her up and right before she starts calling him down.

Burglar's Wife (2 a. m.)—Listen, John! I think there are policemen in the house.
Burglar—Let 'em alone. They won't touch nothing but the beer and cold chicken.

Clothes make the man. Policemen always take a dress suit home when they find a drunk inside it.

Girl (at college)—I'll stand on my head or bust!
Gym Instructor—Never mind, Miss Miller. Just stand on your head.

Have you ever stopped to think how much wiser it is to look ahead with hope, preparing for better things than to look back with regret? If not, isn't it about time to begin? Surely it is.

Actor—So you're going to use me in your next play? Apparently you have discovered at last what I am.
Director—Yeah, hurry up and get into the hind legs of that stage horse over there.

Modern Youth's Version: Better to have loved and lost—much better.

A normal spring day is as pretty as a hospital nurse with a new baby in her arms.

"In Utopia," says one wise-cracker, "Spring and housecleaning never come at the same time." How silly. In Utopia housecleaning never comes.

"Your wife needs a change," said the doctor. "Salt air will cure her." The next time the physician called he found the Scotchman sitting by the bedside, fanning his wife with a salt herring.

Wife—I had a lovely time at the bridge club this afternoon.
Husband—Did you have the best score?
Wife—No, I had the best dress.

Yes, the old-fashioned man placed woman on a pedestal. And then left her there when he went out to have a good time.

There isn't much interest in the young married couple that seems to be getting along all right and are happy.

If there is anything wrong with the world, it must be that we have too many opinions and too few real facts.

An ideal happy married state is one where the wife goes her way and the husband goes hers, too.

Brushville Merchant—No, sir, I ain't a-goin' to advertise.

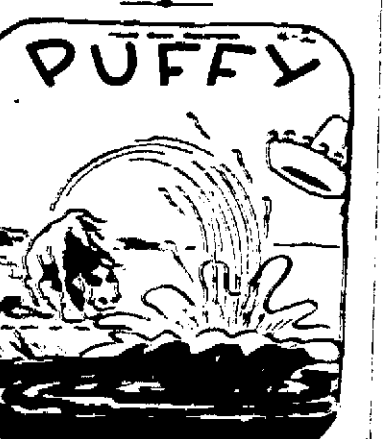

Solicitor—Why not?
Merchant—I tried it once, and it nearly ruined me. People come from miles away and they bought nearly all the stuff I had.

Don't let anxiety caused by the many government experiments blind your eyes to the unique opportunities of a recovery period.

Fight Against Nudism
Albany, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—The off-delayed vote on legislation to outlaw nudism in New York state now is scheduled for Wednesday in the Lower House of the legislature. The Dooling bill came up for final passage last night but Speaker Irwin Steingard postponed the vote until Wednesday to permit a minor amendment to be made. The amendment, he said, "will meet some of the objections now offered." The anti-nudist bill would make indecent exposure a misdemeanor.

Nature is repeating herself. Last year she brought the greatest drought in history to the great American mid-west, turned millions of acres of rich wheat land to desert, and had the laugh on the puny efforts of mere man to control production. As if that lesson weren't severe enough, Nature is again menacing crops—dust clouds recently swept down after day across the vast mid-west wheat country. The area affected includes over 50,000,000 acres of wheat land. The result, unless late rains do the unexpected and remedy the situation, will be an inconsequential crop.

Puff's newly caught broncho is running full steam.

He stops just short—there's a splash and a thud
As Puff topples over and flops in the mud.

FRENCH PUT 'DEATH WATCH' ON THE VERSAILLES PEACE PACT

Only Minor Clauses Survive Nibbling Tactics Of Powers

By ALEXANDER H. UHL

Paris (AP)—The Treaty of Versailles, which Hitler has been pounding steadily for 15 years, virtually is all gone except for its territorial and colonial clauses.

And the average Frenchman is wondering how long these survivors will last. Charges that Germany had violated the treaty in a dozen different ways had frequently been made in France and Great Britain, but it was not until Germany announced creation of a military air force, that the treaty was openly defied, for article 198 says:

"The armed forces of Germany must not include any military or naval air force."

Then came the bombshell of Hitler's announcement that henceforth Germany would refuse to consider herself bound by the military clauses of the treaty.

That announcement, with restoration of conscription on the basis of the German army, added a startling chapter to the barely 15-year history of a treaty that took a year and a half to produce.

Some Sections Died Early

There are some clauses that never were enforced; there are others that have been slowly but steadily disregarded and there are still others that Germany has abolished. Article 227 called for trial of the former Emperor, William, by five judges to be named by the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. Holland, however, refused to extradite him and the clause lapsed.

Article 228 demanded the trial of a number of high German officials, including the former crown prince and Marshal Von Hindenburg, for atrocities and other alleged war crimes, but Germany never surrendered them.

The section of the treaty dealing

Treaty Of Versailles

Paris (AP)—Here's the status of the principal provisions of the treaty of Versailles:

- (1) The League of Nations—Still functioning.
- (2) Punishment of the Kaiser—Never enforced.
- (3) Territory and Colonies—Saar returned to Germany whose frontiers remain otherwise as shortened by treaty stipulations. Germany still seeks restoration of former colonies and union with Austria.
- (4) Disarmament—Germany refuses further obedience to army and air clause treaty. Navy still within treaty limits. Rhineland still demilitarized.
- (5) Reparations—No payments since 1931.
- (6) Economic provisions—Mostly carried out.
- (7) Guarantees enforcing treaty—All lapsed or abandoned.

with Germany's frontiers and colonies still holds its original force. The Saar, last of the plebiscite areas, has gone back to Germany as a result of the vote of January 13. Hitler has virtually given up claims for Alsace-Lorraine, while the thorny Polish corridor problem seems moribund because of the German-Polish friendship developed since signature of a 10-year accord in 1934.

'Anschluss' Hope Survives

Insistence on the independence of Austria is a vital part of the treaty. But Germany has not abandoned hope despite the joint Franco-British-Italian stand against "an-

Hitler's Army Plan Puts New Smudge On Treaty Record

With Germany repudiating the armament sections of the treaty of Versailles, only shreds remain of the document signed when the camera recorded this scene. Georges Clemenceau, famous Frenchman, is shown as he arose in the hall of mirrors to call the German representatives to sign the peace pact. To his right is Woodrow Wilson and to his left is David Lloyd George who alone survives chief actors in historic drama.

was set at 100,000 in the treaty. French authorities claim Germany now has a force of 600,000 men.

The naval clause restricting Germany to 10,000 tons with the biggest ships to 10,000 tons is still in operation but Hitler told Sir John Simon that Germany wants to build up to 400,000 tons.

Final Clause Lapses

Reparations which filled a considerable part of the treaty are not being paid. Scaled down twice, the reparations payments never were resumed after the Hoover moratorium of 1931.

The economic clauses of the peace treaty in general have been fulfilled. The final section of the treaty dealing with guarantees of enforcement of its provisions has lapsed. The allies evacuated the Rhineland in advance of the treaty stipulations and surrendered their rights of re-occupation.

In general the territorial and colonial clauses as well as the demilitarization of the German frontiers still stand.

The League of Nations, created by the treaty, is still functioning, but Germany is no longer a member.

Recording Artists Say They Are Exploited

Hollywood, Calif., April 2 (AP).—

Threatening drastic action, if necessary, the American Society of Recording Artists today requested the nation's 614 radio stations to discontinue broadcasting recordings of its artist members except under license to the society and royalty payments to the artists.

In a statement released by George H. Hall, managing director of the society, and mailed to the country's broadcasting stations, the organization announced it "holds the 250,000 firms, corporations and individuals who have lent themselves to this practice equally responsible with the radio broadcasting stations for such unlicensed exploitation of talent."

Hall said the stations, their advertisers and sponsors already owe to recording artists "whose talents they have exploited," more than $25,000,000.

Indicating the issue would be carried to the courts for a test case if necessary, Hall said the society had learned from investigations that, if deprived of the use of such talent, one half of the nation's radio stations might have to shut down through lack of entertainment facilities.

Hall, formerly an official of a large recording company, said that prior to the popularity of the radio, it was not uncommon for a million of one artist's reproductions to be sold, while today the top sale in the United States is under 25,000.

As an example of the marked decline in royalties received by recording artists since radio, Hall related the circumstance of a popular comedian, who yesterday received a check for 75 cents, representing royalties for his year's record efforts.

The announcement stated broadcasters who obtain a license from the society by April 15 will be "released from all liability" for the use of talent of the artist members occurring prior to the time of license date.

The society claims its membership includes the majority of the popular recording artists of the country and its board of governors lists such well known names as Eddie Cantor, Gene Austin, Ben Bernie, Don Bestor, Jack Benny, Morton Downey, Al Jolson, Ted Fio Rito, Ted Lewis, and scores of motion picture stars and concert-opera celebrities.

Emerson and Sewell Stage a Fist Battle

Los Angeles, April 2 (AP).—How ultra-modern wife swapping brought an old fashioned fist fight between the male principals in the Emerson and Sewell divorce tangle, started Beverly Hills socialites today.

Displaying two puffed hands, Walter Emerson, former actor and writer, told a story of a violent encounter in which he said he knocked down Barton W. Sewell, his erstwhile sportsman-friend. "Four or five times."

Sewell's version was that Emerson had hit him with a gun.

They fought early yesterday on the driveway of the home of Mrs. Jane Shultz Emerson, estranged wife of Emerson, and her mother, Mrs. Blanche Shultz, formerly of Denver.

Mrs. Shultz was named custodian of the three Emerson children several weeks ago when Judge Ben Lindsey figuratively threw up his hands in disgust and denied sensational counter divorce petitions sought by the Emersons.

Relating his version of the fight, Emerson said:

"I had gone over to my house to see my kiddies. My oldest boy, Wally, had telephoned that no one was home except the children and the servants."

"As I was leaving the house, a limousine drove up with Sewell and his wife at his side and her mother in the rear seat."

"After explaining the purpose of my visit I pleaded with my wife and Sewell to stop, since I could not see each other. I pointed out that even though we were separated and lost still desired a divorce, she is still my wife and would I please let her stay with me."

"Sewell laughed at my pleas and made several unprovoked remarks. He threatened to would go with my wife until she married him down."

"Then Sewell pulled out a gun and started waving it in my face. I saw that I was in a bad way and I ran for my life."

"Sewell struck me from behind and I fell. He then came over and hit me on the head with a brick. I got up and ran for my life."

"Sewell struck me from behind and I fell. He then came over and hit me on the head with a brick. I got up and ran for my life."

Phoenicia Fish And Game Meeting

Saturday evening the annual meeting of the Phoenicia Fish and Game Association was held at Freeman's Hall in that village. The attendance was the largest in many years and the association received many new applications for membership.

Fred W. Housman was re-elected president, Burr Deming, vice president and D. R. Hillson, secretary-treasurer.

The association went on record as being opposed to any change in fishing and hunting license fees that would bring less revenues to the Conservation Department. This motion was made by James Simpson and the secretary was asked to advise Assemblyman Conway and Senator Wicks regarding same.

Trout fishing prospects for the coming year were discussed and the consensus of opinion was that this season should be a banner one as the condition of the streams in the locality are excellent at the present time.

A very novel prize contest was announced by the association. Ten trout will be tagged with metal tags the first of the season and the association will pay a prize of $1 to each member of the association who is skillful enough to locate one of the tagged fish. Ray Smith will also donate a prize of five dozen dry flies to the association member catching the largest trout. With the prizes being offered there will undoubtedly be some keen competition among the anglers of the club.

The Esopus creek and its tributaries have been heavily stocked in preparation for the season with both fingerlings and legal sized trout. This should make some excellent fishing again this year and members of the association are urged to renew their membership cards and get in a position to enter the fishing contests and be able to claim the prizes.

Information was given the club that the Conservation Department will build a trout growing pond on state land in Chichester and that this pond may be used by the association. During the past year the department has had the CCC boys working on the streams constructing refuges for trout. These are made by erecting log or stone barriers half way across the streams at intervals which will protect them and give them additional places to hide. The trail on Mt. Tremper is also being changed. It will be twelve feet wide and will be available for both hiking in the summer and as a ski trail in winter. During the summer months the trail up Mt. Tremper to the fire tower is a popular hiking trip for visitors as well as local people.

East Chester Street By-pass Given Another Delay on Technicality

The state highway department notified Mayor C. J. Helselman this afternoon that the state conservation commission had declined to give the state highway department the right to go through a piece of land in the rear of the City Home for a distance of about 600 feet.

The state conservation department claimed that the state constitution does not grant it the power to turn any of its lands over for the use of another department.

This means briefly, that the construction of the proposed East Chester street by-pass to Route No. 9 will be delayed until a new route can be laid out which will pass around the lands of the state conservation commission.

Mayor Helselman when interviewed today said that he thought it was a shame that a technically legal road should be held up by a public improvement such as this involving the expenditure of $158,000 for a public improvement which would give a great deal of work at good wages to a large number of unemployed men. The mayor said that the city will use every effort and cooperate with the state highway department to overcome this objection which has been made at this late date when the road is being advertised for bids and the contract was supposed to be awarded on April 16.

This land of the conservation department is worthless land, and could not be used for other purposes.

There were a few soft spots in the otherwise brighter market. Wilcox & Co. common lost a point and the preferred dropped 5. Armour & Co. Preferred also yielded more than a point. J. C. Penney showed a 2-point recession.

Pastors and Stewards Met at Walden Church

Stone Ridge, April 2.—The pastors of Newburgh district of the New York M. E. Conference, with the district superintendent and delegates to the annual conference held a meeting at the Walden M. E. Church on Monday at 10 a. m. Dr. P. C. Weyant, district superintendent of Newburgh district, was in charge. The meeting was opened by singing, "Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing," with Fred Victor as song leader.

An effective prayer was offered by one of the pastors.

Dr. Weyant appointed H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville as secretary. The resolution committee was the Rev. Roscoe Strivings of Stone Ridge, the Rev. Reginald E. Edwards of Deposit and the Rev. Ralph Northrup of Marlborough.

Dr. Coons explained that the district treasurer had for some time found it necessary to borrow money from the bank and the notes must be renewed every three or four months. It had been decided a better plan to put a mortgage on the district parsonage. A party had been secured who would take the mortgage at 5 per cent but first, the District Steward Association must be incorporated into a body to be known as Newburgh District Stewards' Association of the Newburgh District of New York Annual Conference of Methodist Episcopal Church, Inc.

Those present approved of the incorporation and mortgaging the district parsonage but not enough district stewards were present to constitute a quorum. Therefore, Dr. Weyant and Mr. Coons will communicate with the other district stewards before the business can be transacted.

Fred Victor, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York State, gave an inspiring message. Dr. Victor stated that the McGrath Field bill, which would have taken temperance education from the public schools and from the text books, after being passed by the senate had been struck down by the calendar before being voted on by the assembly. A loud applause followed. He said the W. C. T. U. and Anti-Saloon League work hand in hand and both have been approved and endorsed by the General M. E. Conference as a part of the General Conference.

Dr. Howard E. Thompson of Trinity M. E. Church of Newburgh and chairman of conference committee on world service, spoke very effectively on a plan being worked out whereby instead of foreign missionary money going all in one treasury and being handed out by officials, each conference will be allotted a definite place where their money will be used and missionaries home on furlough will explain the work being done in their part of the country. The home missionary money will also be used within the territory of the district in which it will be raised.

Dr. Allen McKelvie, chairman of committee on conference courses of study of M. E. Church of the United States, gave a most thrilling and inspiring address on the duty of pastors and laymen.

After singing "A Charge to Keep I Have," the meeting adjourned. At 1 o'clock a delicious dinner was served by the ladies of the entertainment church. At 2:15 o'clock Dr. Wolsey, a layman of M. E. Church of Hancock, briefly but very interestingly explained why the laymen elected as delegates to the annual conference should assume their responsibility.

Dr. James A. Leach of St. Paul's M. E. Church of Middletown in a very able manner expressed his ideas on a new method of equalizing the money given to conference claimants and also stated a plan should be worked out to increase the fund as these worthy people should be better provided for in their old age. The subject was very interestingly discussed.

The Rev. Mr. Strivings read a report of the resolution committee which was accepted as read. Meeting closed by singing "And Can It Be That I Should Gain an Interest in the Saviour's Blood."

The Rev. Joseph E. Spencer, pastor of Grace Church of Newburgh, pronounced the benediction.

Maybe if enough of that western soil blows into the east, we will have some real dirt farmers right in the Agricultural Department.

Cleveland Indians Will Win American Pennant, Says Experts

By ORLO ROBERTSON

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, April 2 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians, who last year failed to muster a single first place vote and only one for second, have been selected by the baseball experts to win the American League pennant in a wide-open race involving five of the eight clubs.

Although the Indians will be without the services of their ace shortstop, Bill Knickerbocker, at the start of the season, 25 of the 76 sports editors and writers participating in the ninth annual Associated Press pennant poll selected Walter Johnson's outfit as the team to beat by the small margin of two votes over the New York Yankees.

A surprise in the balloting was the failure of the Detroit Tigers to run one, two. The 1934 champions, who were picked by five experts to win last year, were favored by only 13 writers and just managed to nose out the Boston Red Sox, who received 12 first-place votes.

The three other votes to lead the league went to the Philadelphia Athletics.

In contrast to the National League, in which the Cardinals and Giants were the heavy favorites to finish either first or second, the Tigers dominated the second-place voting in the junior circuit. They received 35 votes, nearly twice as many as their nearest rivals, the Yankees. Cleveland was picked by 17 for runner-up honors.

Yankee St. Maybe
The defending champions, who went through the 1934 season without a serious injury, also dominated the third-place balloting, receiving 25 votes as compared to 19 for the Indians, 15 for the Red Sox and 14 for the Yanks.

The Indians and Yankees were selected to finish no lower than fifth while the Tigers were considered a good bet for the first division, as only three writers picked them for as low as fourth place.

The wide diversity of opinion was noted in the voting for the Athletics and the Red Sox. Connie Mack's team, with Jimmie Fox placed behind the plate, received votes for every position while the Sox were picked for every one except eighth.

There was little argument as to the last three positions. The Washington Senators received 41 of the sixth-place votes, the St. Louis Browns, 49 of the seventh-place ballots, and the Chicago White Sox, 64 to again finish in the cellar.

Latest News from The Baseball Front

Orlando, Fla., April 2 (AP).—Enthusiasm over their most satisfying victory of the spring campaign, the St. Louis Browns oppose the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first of a two-game series today.

The short fences at Kissimmee proved a hitter's dream yesterday and the Browns, with a barrage of 20 hits, including six home runs, massacred Baltimore, 24 to 6. It was their twelfth victory in 15 spring games.

Lakeland, Fla., April 2 (AP).—The Cincinnati Reds cross bats with the champion Detroit Tigers here today. The game is the second in a long series that will conclude in Cincinnati April 14, two days before the formal opener.

No overtures have been made toward a possible return of Jim Bottomley, erstwhile first sacker, and Johnny Mize, $55,000 rookie, was believed as virtually certain to draw the keystone assignment.

Opponent for Baer And Title Fight Scene Remain Under Debate

Chicago, April 2 (AP).—Discussion of the complicated question of when, where and with whom Max Baer will defend his world heavyweight championship, proceeded today—but with no special prospect that it would be solved right away.

"Most of the bidding and counter-bidding was being done by the Twentieth Century Sporting Club of New York, a recently formed organization, and the Chicago Stadium—but New York's Madison Square Garden, apparently, held the ace of trump. The Garden has Baer tied up at least until the end of June, and the champion's manager, Anell Hoffman, says he can't make any dates for fights until the Garden contract is fulfilled. The Garden, however, so far has not been able to get a suitable opponent for a title bout with Baer.

The Chicago promoters, Jim Mulen and Nate Lewis, appear more concerned with the immediate future than with championship bouts later in the year. However, one of their latest proposals—a four-round exhibition between Baer and Joe Louis, the Detroit negro sensation, might interfere with the Twentieth Century Club's plans.

Mike Jacobs, matchmaker for the latter group, announced from New York last night that he had reached an agreement with Hoffman, for a meeting next September between Baer, and the winner of the Primo Cornera-Louis battle. A four-rounder between the champion and the negro star might, or might not, do the Twentieth Century Club's plans, if they go through, some good.

Hoffman said Jacobs' announcement was not "exactly true," again citing the contract with Madison Square Garden. However, he said he was interested in the proposition if it could be arranged. At the same time, he had not definitely turned down the Chicago Stadium's four-round exhibition offer. The Stadium would stage the exhibition April 15, but prefers a ten-round non-title match April 12. If a suitable opponent can be rounded up.

Joe Jacobs, manager of former champion Max Schmeling, also had dealt himself a hand. He is after a championship bout for the German, to be held in Chicago next June.

Helen Wills Moody Will Not Turn Pro

San Francisco, April 2 (AP).—Helen Wills Moody, now testing her physical condition for a possible comeback, hopes to scale the international tennis heights once more but whether or not she is destined to rule the courts again she never will turn professional.

The one time queen of the net sport also thinks "it would be fun" to act in a motion picture based on tennis.

Reactions of the young matron, whose parabolic sweep through the tennis skies saw her start as a girl in pigtail in 1923 and finished with a disheartening back injury and default to Helen Jacobs a decade later, were given today for the Associated Press.

Mrs. Moody's fondest hopes are to return to international competition. "I would like to take part in the big events in tennis, provided my game gets a good start now. It is a little hard to tell just now when I will be able to play in a tournament. It is better to play in some small tournaments first," she wrote.

An emphatic "no" was her reply to the query as to whether she would "consider turning professional."

Comparing the brand of tennis played today with that in 1923 when she won her first American title, Mrs. Moody said, "I should say there are no players the equal of Suzanne Lenglen, the great French player, but that there are many more good women players than there used to be."

Leads Legionnaires Against Old Teammates, The Celtics, Tonight

CAPTAIN CARL HUSTA

The chance that Carl Husta has been waiting for all season comes to him tonight. He'll lead the Kingston Legionnaires against the world famous Original Celtics, the team he played with last year and earned this reputation:

"There's a reason for Husta's popularity among fans. . . it's his seemingly tireless vim and the terrific pace he holds throughout the entire period of play. . . not only in individual games. . . but in ALL games!"

That is how the press agent of the big green team described the man who is now captain of the Kingston Legionnaires. And although he is no longer playing with the Celtics, Husta has lived up to the reputation in every respect.

Tonight he hopes to show Joe Lopchick's boys that same tireless vim and terrific pace. About the popularity stuff, well, this never bothers Carl. The fans take care of that for the modest sparkplug of the Kingston attack. He deserves a bigger hand than ever tonight and undoubtedly will get it when he trots out onto the court with his Legionnaires.

Getting back to Husta's chief desire, he would like to beat the Celtics, just for old time's sake. Although he played with the Shamrockers last season, he fondly remembers the pasting Frank Morgenweck's club, the old Kingston Colonials, handed the champions of the world more than 10 years ago when he was a youngster starting out on his basketball career under one of the greatest coaches and managers the game has ever had.

Of course, it will not be all Husta in there tonight at the Municipal Auditorium. Frank Shimek, the past master of basket making; Hank Kurtyka, the famous ball-hawk of the local club; Bill Hamilton; Corky Stanton, that flashy passer and crack shot from Schenectady, and the newly acquired A. Kellett of the Boston Trojans, all will be trying every minute that they are in there fighting for the honor of the Kingston Legion.

The Celtics will come to Kingston with their regular lineup of stars: Joe Lopchick, captain, center and manager; Dutch Dehnert, master of the magnetic pivot play; Pete Barry, who plays all positions effectively; Dave Banks, the little dynamo; Nat Hickey, formerly with the Cleveland Rosenblooms and Pat Herlihy, who played with Kingston himself in 1927-28.

Starting time of the game is 9:15 o'clock. There will be no dance after it. Preliminary to the feature the Kendalls and Z. N. P. will meet for the second time to give the Oilmens a chance to avenge the 12-17 defeat they suffered last week. This duel is down for 8 o'clock. The doors of the Auditorium will open at 7.

Lineups for the prelim:
Kendalls—Rhymmer and Zeel, forwards; Every, center; Dykes, Debrosky and Merritt, guards.
Z. N. P.—Geisler and Kieffer, forwards; Munson and Schline, centers; Kelly, Kennoch, Van Deusen, Tatarzewski and Cullum, guards.

Bill Grieve Will Be Referee Tonight

Bill Grieve of New York, who referees basketball games at Madison Square Garden, will handle the contest between the Celtics and Legionnaires at the Municipal Auditorium tonight.

Grieve was hired by Frank Morgenweck over the week-end while the plot of the Legionnaires was on a visit to New York. He will replace "Butch" Buerri who refereed most of the games this season.

On the same week-end trip, Morgenweck got a new center for the Legionnaires to replace Jim Lennon whom he released after the game last week with the Philadelphia Herkules. Al Kellett of the Boston Trojans is the newcomer and Morgenweck hopes he'll strengthen the local club for the Celtic duel.

Kellett, if he proves suitable, and indications are that he will, will remain with the Legionnaires for their other big test, the return game with the Renaissance. The date of this contest is Tuesday, April 9. This program likely will draw the season of the Legionnaires to a close.

Invitation Tourney Revives Rivalry of Jones and Sarazen

Augusta, Ga., April 2 (AP).—Besides bringing together the finest field available for the climax of the winter circuit, with as much class and more color than a National Open Championship, the second annual Augusta National Invitation Tournament revives a keen personal rivalry between the greatest two champions of American post-war golf—Gene Sarazen and Bob Jones.

They will match shots over the 72-hole route, starting this Thursday, for the first time since 1930, the year Jones registered his famous "grand slam." Between 1922 and 1932 these two accounted for a total of 13 national championships.

Sarazen declined an invitation to compete in last spring's tournament here, which marked the return of the great Georgian to competition after a four-year layoff. To make sure he would not be tempted to change his mind or yield to persuasion, Sarazen left the country and toured Latin-America by airplane.

This was accepted as fresh evidence of some feeling, if not an actual "feud" between Sarazen and Jones, growing out of several incidents calculated to irritate one or the other.

No doubt they were magnified but Gene did put the "blast" on Bob a year or so ago upon hearing the Georgian would return to competition if the National Open was awarded the Augusta course. The report proved untrue and Sarazen subsequently regretted his impulsiveness.

If there are any injured feelings left, however, they are not in evidence this spring.

Gene was acclaimed the new world champion in 1932, when he captured both British and American open titles. He won the National P. G. A. crown in 1933, but hasn't won a big tournament since then. He "blew" great chances to repeat his open championship "double" last year by carding sevens.

JUNIOR ROTARIANS DEFEAT FRIENDLY INDIANS AT Y. M. C. A.

Saturday morning was an exciting time for the junior members of the Y. M. C. A. for the "Y" gym witnessed an athletic meet between the Friendly Indian and Junior Rotary Clubs. Ten members were chosen from each club to carry its colors against its rivals in the five different events. Four of the five events were judged by the team record, while the fifth event, the 40-yard dash, went to the fastest individual.

The events were: Standing broad jump, won by Junior Rotary Club; ten lap relay race, won by Junior Rotary Club; foul shooting contest, won by Junior Rotary Club; basketball relay, won by Friendly Indians; 60 yard dash, won by Lester Martin of the Friendly Indian team. So close was Martin pressed by Ferrell McElrath of the Junior Rotary team that the first race was called a dead heat and Martin barely nosed him out when the event was re-run.

Following are the names of the boys who competed on the teams: Friendly Indians—Ralph Grothkopp, William Grothkopp, Robert Flicker, Harold Waltrous, Joseph Palisi, John Martin, Virgil Olson, Donald Krum, James Castle and Joseph Ross.

Junior Rotarians—Alden Hunt, Ferrell McElrath, James Freer, Ronald Freer, Clifton Stalter, John Mayone, Robert Van Buren, James Divine, John Divine and Eugene Lowe.

Following the meet all the boys had a swim in the "Y" pool.

Few Visitors to Spain Discover Columbus' Port

Spain—Few visitors to Spain discover this village near Seville, although it is from here that Columbus sailed to discover America. Today there is a colossal statue erected in his memory in 1928, the gift of American friends to Spain. The town of Columbus is in the Cathedral of Seville. Third largest in the world, and his sarcophagus is borne by four enormous bronze figures, representing the ancient kingdoms of Leon.

Although Benjamin Franklin is credited with numerous inventions, he never applied for a patent on any of them.

Second City League Meeting Thursday At City Hall, 7:30

Thursday, April 4, is the date for the second meeting of club managers interested in the formation of the City Baseball League this season. The gathering will be held in the chambers of City Judge Bernard A. Culloton with "Bud" himself presiding.

At the meeting definite plans are expected to be made for the inauguration of the league and from then on things will hum along to the opening of the loop on the Athletic Field where all games are to be played.

Jack Hartman, secretary of the league for several years, presided at the first meeting last week and expressed much concern and interest in getting the City League underway this year. "Prospects for a big look good," said Jack following the meeting.

Teams represented at the first meeting were Schryver Lumber Company, Knights of Columbus, Rod and Gun Club, Hercules, Crystal Beauty Shoppe, Ad Jones Dairy, P. A. All of these are expected to have their managers at next Thursday's gathering, which is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock.

Besides these clubs, the Packing Company may enter a team with Herb Mills as the manager. Any concern or organization interested in having a team in the City League is invited to send a representative to Thursday's meeting.

Information Sought on Quail in the County

Modena, April 2—For the last four years the New York State Conservation Department through its bureau of game, has been stocking bob-white quail in Ulster county. The Modena Rod and Gun Club, Walkers Rod and Gun Club, Southern Ulster Fish and Game Club, Ellenville Izaak Walton League, Golden Phoenix Rod and Gun Club, and the Saugerties Fish and Game Club have cooperated in this work. The liberations have been an experiment to determine whether or not this species can be brought back to its former abundance in this region, and the state is now anxious to know whether their efforts have been successful.

Gardner Bump, superintendent of the bureau of game, has requested the cooperating clubs to gather all information possible on these birds prior to a survey to be made by state game men later this spring. It is urgently requested that anyone having seen or heard quail during the past year, communicate with Louis Hyatt of the Modena Rod and Gun Club at Modena under whose direction these liberations have been made.

The department calls attention to the interesting fact that bob-whites were once common in 44 counties of New York state. A bushel of theories and a half pint of facts have been advanced to explain their disappearance. A gradual shift in New York's type of agriculture involving a 50 per cent decrease in grain production and the elimination of hedgerows and brushy corners as the result of the "clear-farming" era have undoubtedly been contributing factors. Everyone is watching with a great deal of interest the state's efforts to bring quail back.

Mr. Bump points out that the bob-white, in addition to being an excellent game bird, is a good friend of the farmer, since its food is almost entirely weed seeds and insects. Its cheery whistle, "bob-white," is a delight to all who know him, and his friendliness and gamey qualities endear him to all nature lovers and sportsmen.

The "Fourth Estate"

The term "estates of the realm" was formerly applied to the three great classes or orders which had a share in the government, namely the clergy, the lords and the commons, in England. Secular writers such as Fitching in 1722 referred to the "mob" as a fourth estate; others applied the term to the army, to the times newspaper, to the journalist Cobden, etc. Lord Brougham is credited with the use of the term in parliament, about 1823, to describe the growing power of the newspaper press. In 1828 Macaulay stated: "The gallery in which the reporters sit has become a fourth estate of the realm." Carlyle used it in his "Heroes and Hero Worship" in 1840, attributing it to the orator, Edmund Burke, but the statement is not recorded in Burke's published works. The phrase designates the press as a distinct power in the state, presumably from the license it exercises, the liberties it enjoys, or the power it wields.

Hotel des Invalides

The Hotel des Invalides was founded by Louis XIV in 1674 as a home for disabled soldiers, the first of its kind, and at one time housed as many as 3,000 and even 4,000 pensioners. At the outbreak of the Great war there were only about twenty inmates, but since then their number has increased enormously. Built from the designs of Liberal Bruant, whose work was continued by Mansart, the Invalides was restored under Napoleon I and Napoleon III and covers an area of about thirty-one acres.

West Hurley Edges Out Pirates 31-28

Monday evening at Woodstock the West Hurley team edged out the Kingston Pirates in one of the most sensational battles ever played in Woodstock. The Pirates had their opponents 13-2 at the first quarter. In the second period West Hurley rubbed out this lead and the second period ended in a 15-15 deadlock.

The third period saw both teams play a tight defensive game and this ended 25-24 in favor of West Hurley. Then the final period started and with a few minutes to play Jack Leahy dribbled in with a beautiful push-up shot to tie the score. Here the West Hurley fans went wild. With about ten seconds to play Save threw a beautiful shot from the mid-court to edge out the Pirates. Jansen lead the home team with 13 while Coughlin had ten for the Pirates.

Dart Ball Playoff On Friday Night

Friday night of this week the tie between the St. Remy Men's Club and the St. Paul Men's Club in the National Division of the Federated Dart Baseball League will be played off at the Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street. The game will be called at 8 o'clock and all members of clubs in the Federation are cordially invited to attend. These two teams, winners of their respective halves of the National League schedule, have played an exceptional dart baseball during the winter and surely deserve the position they now hold, so that this playoff should bring a crowd of spectators.

Winner of this league will play off with the Congregationalists of Poughkeepsie, leaders of both halves of the American League, on Wednesday evening, April 24, at the Fair Street Church. Further announcements will be made of this final playoff in a few days.

Meador Sees Slight Hope to Regain Bride

San Antonio, Tex., April 2 (AP)—Frank Meador said today he still loves his helms bride, the former Anne Gould from whom he is separated, but that there appeared little chance for a reconciliation.

The young Texas bank clerk, who married Miss Gould shortly before last Christmas, said divorce would not be started immediately as each was "waiting to see who made the next move. I'm still very fond of my wife. I wouldn't want to say anything to hurt her feelings."

Meador said he had no inkling his young and pretty wife would not return to their modest home here when she went east to attend the funeral of her father about a month ago, instead of coming back to San Antonio she went to Florida. He minimized the fact he failed to accompany his wife to the funeral as a factor in the separation, explaining his business didn't allow him to make trips on the spur of the moment.

Asked if the simplicity of the life Mrs. Meador led as his wife brought about dissatisfaction and eventual separation, the Texan said: "It may have been an indirect cause, but that was not the primary reason."

"She couldn't have stood her life here as a steady diet. She was used to traveling and entertaining more than I could possibly find time for and hold my position."

"My wife is very decided in her refusal to return and I'll certainly not leave my business connection here."

He would not confirm a report the breach was about by his refusal to accede to his wife's wishes and leave.

Matthews, $223; Decker & Fowler, $127.

ALBINO FROG OVERSHADOWS FAMOUS DIONNE FIVE

New York, April 2 (AP)—Canada has her Dionne quintuplets but St. Lawrence county, N. Y., or more recently the American Museum of Natural History here, has its blond, pink-eyed frog.

Dr. G. Kingsley Noble, curator of herpetology and head of the museum's department of experimental biology, has rendered the guess that the birth of the albino frog probably was a biological occurrence of greater rarity than the birth of quintuplets.

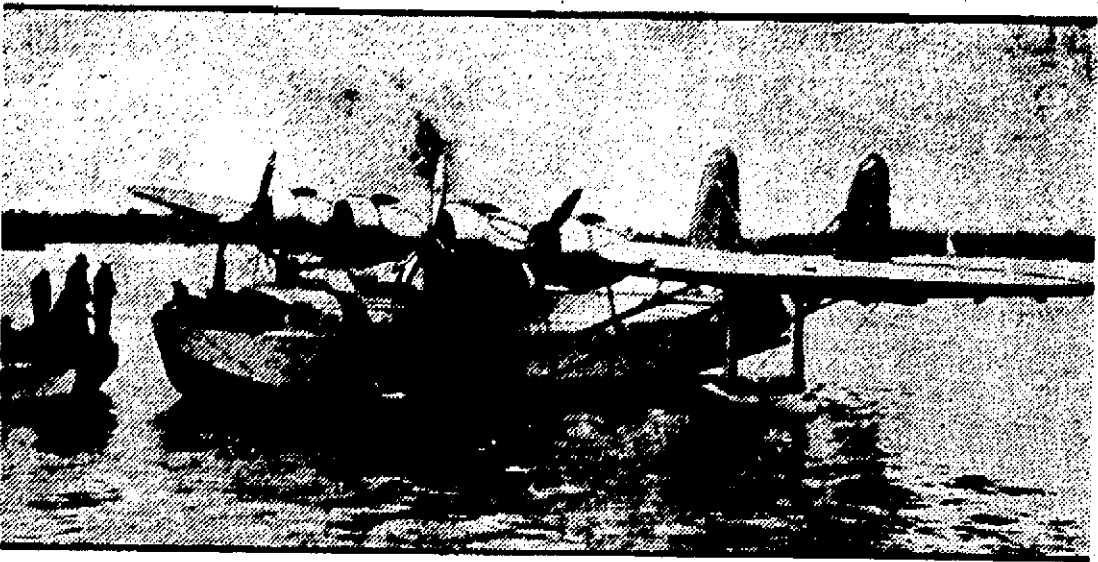

The frog, of the species ran. Clamhans, "must be one in a million," said Dr. Noble.

The frog was brought to the aquarium at the Battery, by a St. Lawrence county resident whose name was not readily learned. It is now a very pampered creature, living on specially raised moth larvae.

Quite the contrary to the protective coloring fashionable among frogs, this one wears a saffron-tinted skin that goes well with its bulging pink eyes.
